Conversation Pieces

There are some enterprises in which a careful disorderliness is the true method.

There is a correlation between the creative and the screwball. So we must suffer the screwball gladly.

There is music wherever there is harmony, order, or proportion.

The strongest human instinct is to impart information, the second strongest is to resist it.

Crude classifications and false generalizations are the curse of the organized life.

"A pound of pluck is worth a ton of luck." - James A. Garfield

"A prudent question is one-half of wisdom." - Francis Bacon

"Idealism increases in direct proportion to one's distance from the problem." - John Galsworthy

"I've made so many movies playing a hooker that they don't pay me in the regular way any more. They leave it on the dresser." - Shirley MacLaine

"A little sincerity is a dangerous thing, and a great deal of it is absolutely fatal." - Oscar Wilde

There are some enterprises in which a careful disorderliness is the true method.

RECIPE

Pork Chops and Scalloped Potatoes Au Gratin

6 top-loin pork chops
6 medium potatoes
1/2 cup Gruyere cheese
1-3/4 cups milk
1/2 an onion
1 leg celery
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon all-purpose meat seasoning
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup flour
Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Clean the potatoes and cut off the skins. Slice the potatoes about a quarter-inch thick. Clean and slice the onions and celery thinly. Tear the onion slices into rings and combine with the celery and potato slices. Melt the butter or margarine over medium heat and mix in the salt, pepper, mustard, flour and grated Gruyere cheese. Stir continuously until the cheese is melted and the sauce is thick. Gently stir in the potato slices, onion rings and celery until those ingredients are covered by the sauce. Set the pork chops in the bottom of a casserole dish and sprinkle the meat seasoning evenly over top. Pour the potato-onion-celery mixture evenly over the top of pork chops. Set the cover on top of the casserole dish and bake for about an hour and 15 minutes, or until the potatoes are softened and the pork chops are cooked. If the potatoes start to turn dark brown, remove the dish from the oven before they start to burn.
